Rockdales Establishment with the 1st school Reopening

In the 1874 after the I&GN Railroads expanded out into Rockdale, they talked about re-organizing the school with Miss Milly Roby. The reasoning was because she was ready to teach and help the young kids that needed educational teaching. She wanted to provide that for them because of the lack of knowledge the students had. "Time For Benefits"

The town had been unsure about if it was the right time for public schools. If it was secured or not yet and it was a decisive decision. The councils pointed out this problem and discussed it for a little while before their final decisions. It was a old abandoned store house at the corner of Cameron and Green St and final the public school was launched.
