

Pee Wee Crayton

By: Taiyari Hernandez

Birth date and young life

Connie Curtis Crayton also known as Pee wee crayton was born in december 18, of 1914, Pee wee Crayton was raised in Austin and attended Olive Street School.

<https://thehoundnyc.com/2010/07/10/pee-wee-crayton/>

Start of career

Pee wee crayton started playing his guitar after moving to california in 1935 and really started his career as a musician in 1948

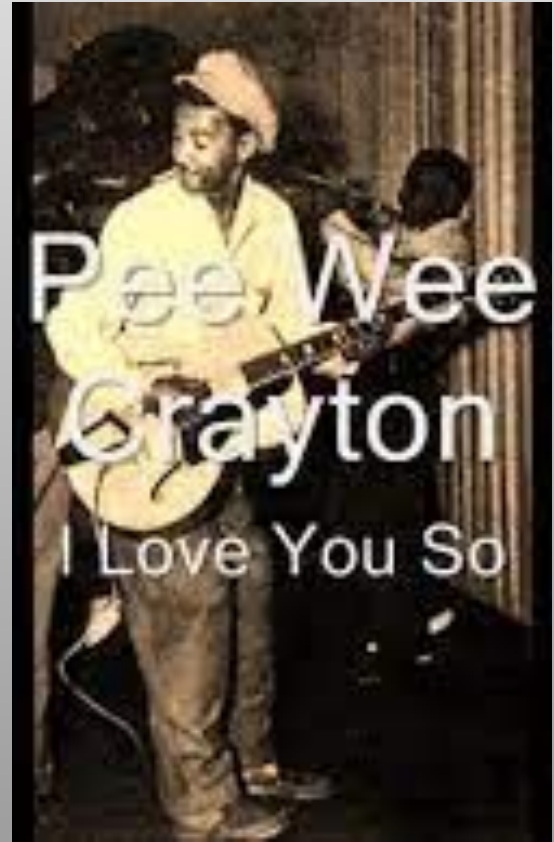

<https://www.tshaoonline.org/handbook/entries/crayton-connie-curtis-pee-wee>

Top 3 best songs

The top three songs made by Pee Wee crayton were "Blue After Hours", "Texas Hop", And "I love you so". Blue After hours and Texas hop both were released in 1948, and I love you so was released one year later in 1949.

<https://playback.fm/artist/pee-wee-crayton-top-songs>

Late life

Although he soon got old Pee Wee crayton never retired from his career as a musician and continued to go on tours until he died in Los Angeles on June 25, 1985.

<https://www.tshaonline.org/handbook/entries/crayton-connie-curtis-pee-wee#:~:text=He%20continued%20to%20record%20and,buried%20in%20Inglewood%20Park%20Cemetery.>

What makes him important to our towns history?

Pee Wee crayton is important to the community of rockdale because he did the thing he loved until the end of his life, and for this and more reasons to the eyes of people he is seen as a legend or a king to others.

Timeline

